Draft Personal Development Plan

Project
Next semester is M12. I would like to do more practical work. Last semester was a research project, which meant a lot of theory and processing results. Also I would like to join a project with multiple students, because I noticed during the modules that I enjoy working in teams.

Modules
I would like to gain more expertise in the Form and Senses Competency. I realize that this is an area that I am good at, so I would like to build on that. Integrating Technology has my interest, but my level might be to low to enter a module in this competency area, so I will explore my options.

Time management has improved, but I can still develop further. So next semester, I will apply my experiences from last semester and build further on that.
